

XYZ University

Attendance and Academic Policy

Academic Year 2026–2027

1. Minimum Attendance Requirement

Students must maintain a minimum attendance of 95% in each registered course during the academic semester. Attendance is calculated from the total number of scheduled classes for that course. A student whose attendance falls below 95% may be subject to academic restrictions and may be denied permission to appear for the final examination.

2. Attendance Calculation

Attendance percentage is calculated using the following formula:

Attendance Percentage = (Number of Classes Attended / Total Classes Conducted) × 100

For example, if 100 classes are conducted, a student must attend at least 95 classes to satisfy the minimum attendance requirement.

3. Attendance Categories

Attendance	Status	Academic Consequence
95% or above	Eligible	No attendance-related restriction
90%–94.99%	Shortage	Attendance warning and review
80%–89.99%	Serious Shortage	May require approval or condonation
Below 80%	Critical Shortage	May be barred from final examination

4. Medical and Exceptional Leave

Students who are unable to attend classes because of documented medical emergencies, university-approved activities, or other exceptional circumstances may submit a formal attendance waiver or condonation request. Supporting documents must be submitted to the department within the specified period.

5. University Activities

Participation in officially authorized XYZ University events, competitions, seminars, conferences, internships, and academic activities may be considered for attendance purposes when prior approval has been obtained.

6. Attendance Monitoring

Students are responsible for regularly checking their attendance records through the university academic portal. Faculty members are expected to maintain accurate attendance records and update them periodically. Any discrepancy should be reported to the course instructor within seven academic days of the attendance entry.

7. Examination Eligibility

Students must satisfy the 95% minimum attendance criterion before being permitted to sit for the final examination. Departments may conduct an attendance review before issuing examination eligibility confirmation.

8. Attendance Review

Attendance records are reviewed at the midpoint of the semester and again before final examinations. Students receiving an attendance warning should contact their academic advisor or department office.

9. Policy Summary

The standard minimum attendance requirement at XYZ University is 95%. Students should monitor attendance throughout the semester rather than waiting until the end of the term to address shortages.

This is a fictional policy document created for educational and RAG demonstration purposes.